

Emergency Bursary Application

Emergency bursary funds are non-repayable financial assistance for eligible Capilano University students who demonstrate a sudden and unexpected financial emergency during a term in which the student is enrolled and where all other sources of income have been exhausted.

- Emergency bursaries are not designed to meet educational costs common to all students, such as tuition fees, and are dependent upon the availability of funds.
- Emergency bursary approvals are case-specific and additional supporting documentation may be requested.
- Indigenous students may also access emergency funding through First Nations Student Services (indigenous@capilanou.ca).

Minimum Eligibility Requirements

- 1. Domestic or international Capilano University student;
- 2. Current full-time or part-time enrolment in any credit program at Capilano University;
- 3. Demonstration of a sudden and unexpected financial emergency;
- 4. Demonstration of financial need (as assessed by Financial Aid and Awards);
- 5. Based on available funds.

Application Instructions

- 1. The application is fillable and can be completed electronically. Download and save the application prior to completing it.
- 2. Answer all questions carefully. Incomplete applications will not be processed.
- 3. Read, sign and date the 'Applicant Declaration.'
- 4. Attach supporting documentation related to your sudden and unexpected financial emergency. This documentation should support what you have outlined in your 'Statement of Circumstance' as well as what you have reported in your 'Budget Worksheet' (e.g. receipts, proof of loss of employment, two recent paystubs, etc.).
- 5. Using your CapU student email account, email your completed application to finaid@capilanou.ca.
