Capilano University is accredited by the U.S. Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities (NWCCU). While a voluntary process for Canadian institutions, accreditation of an institution of higher education by the NWCCU indicates that it meets or exceeds criteria for assessment of institutional quality evaluated through a peer review process.

An accredited college or university is one which has available the necessary resources to achieve its stated purposes through appropriate educational programs, is substantially doing so, and gives reasonable evidence that it will continue to do so in the foreseeable future. Institutional integrity is also addressed through accreditation.

Capilano University is required by the NWCCU accreditation policy to inform its publics of the scheduled NWCCU Year-Seven comprehensive evaluation, with a site visit planned for October 19-21, 2020.

This visit, combined with prior and subsequent reporting mechanisms, will provide a comprehensive evaluation of institutional effectiveness, according to the NWCCU 2020 Standards.

This announcement is a formal request for comments from the public. Any comments must be signed with an original signature and submitted in writing to the President of the NWCCU.
